MINE SECRETARY IS IN OPTIMISTIC MOOD

E. W. ELLIOT HERE ON BUSINESS FOR THE MACNAMARA AND GREAT WESTERN

T. W. Elliot, secretary of the Great Western and MacNamara Mining companies, is up from San Francisco inspecting the properties. He is also going into other mines in the district and until his inspection is completed he is loath to give an expression for publication except one of faith and optimism.

"The production by the MacNamara during the past few weeks," he said, "is proof conclusive of the merit of the property and, while the Great Western does not as yet have a commercial ore body, anyone who has inspected the south rascall from the 1150-foot point must be convinced that the estate possesses great potentiality."

ALASKA SWEEPSTAKES STARTED THIS MORNING

though in some instances, drivers have taken as many as eighteen.

Although two of the most famous drivers, John John, holder of the record of 74 hours, 14 minutes, 20 seconds, and A. A. (Scotty) Allen, part owner of the Allan-Darling team which won in 1911 and 1912 and always has been a close contender for first honors, two sweepstakes winners are among the entries. They are the Bowen-Deleze team, driven by Fay Deleze, which won in 1913 in 75 hours, 18 minutes, and Leonard Sepala, who drove his sixteen Siberian wolf dogs to victory last year in 81 hours, 3 minutes. Two other drivers who have had experience in sweepstakes racing but have not yet been accredited with victory are Percy Blatchford, driving the dogs from the Downing-Blatchford kennel, and Paul Kjaestad, piloting a team of highly trained bird dogs.

In previous years, the race has always developed into a contest between the Siberian wolf dogs and the Alaska bred malamutes. Both have ardent supporters but the champions of the "Siberian wolves" lay stress upon the fact that Johnson's record was established with a team of Siberians.

Many experts consider the Siberian "wolves" the greatest racing dogs in the world. They are a cross between the "husky," the Alaska working dog, and the Siberian wolf. Breeders of this stock make annual trips to the Siberian coast to obtain material for their kennels.

Although the Siberian wolf dog lacks the speed of the malamute, in short distance racing, he has the endurance of his wild progenitor coupled with the faithful intelligence of the Alaskan dog.

The remarkable endurance of the Siberians was demonstrated in 1914 when Johnson drove the last 107 miles of the race without stopping to feed his dogs.

The superior quality of the dogs developed in the Nome racing kennels has been given world recognition twice in recent years. When Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Canadian Arctic explorer outfitted for his expedition in 1913, he obtained all his dogs at Nome, purchasing forty-eight of the best dogs in the kennels. Last year the French government bought 106 dogs here, for use by the army in the Vosges. The French government's purchase prevented "Scotty" Allen from participating in this year's race. Allen was commissioned to select the dogs and accompanied them to France returning to the United States too late to reach Nome in time for the 1916 sweepstakes.

WELL CONSULT SPECIALIST FOR DAUGHTER'S EYES

Mrs. Jack Peck will leave Thursday morning for San Francisco where she will take her little daughter, Francis, who has been suffering with severe pains in her eyes. It is thought desirable to again see a specialist. Francis was improving and has regained sight in the one eye but immediate attention is thought best for the weak one. The little girl's physical condition is all that could be desired in the healthiest child and a complete recovery is looked for.

LUTHERAN SERVICES

Frederick H. Menzel, of Trinity Lutheran church at Gardnerville, arrived in Tonopah this morning. He will conduct Lutheran services at the Presbyterian church this evening. The services will begin at 8 o'clock. The subject matter of the evening's meditation is contained in 1 John, 1, 7. "The blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanses us from all sin," Mr. Ray

VARIED WEATHER ALL IN ONE DAY

The storm that reached Tonopah this morning blew down some wires of the power company west of Oasis causing an interruption of about 15 minutes to allow the line men to switch the juice to the duplicate line. This morning trouble shooters made permanent repairs. The storm was one of the heaviest downpours known in that section and was accompanied by a high wind.

In Tonopah the storm began with a series of mild sun showers that grew into a hail storm and finally settled down to a steady, healthy, wet snow.

A Strange Rock Dweller.

One of the strangest creatures known to science is the pholos, or boring clam. When still very minute the animal bores into the sandstone ledges at extreme low water, by means of its sharp shell, which is replaced by secretions as it is worn away. It penetrates the rock to a depth of six or eight inches and hollows out its burrows as it increases in size. Shaped roughly like a top, it could not leave its rock dwelling even if it wished to do so. For food it depends on the animalcules that float in sea water, which it seizes by its long siphon, or tongue. The pholos is in great demand at the seaside resorts along the Pacific coast, for its meat is very tender and makes excellent soup. The clams are dislodged in great numbers from the ledges by the use of dynamite, although it is possible to obtain them with a pick or crowbar.—Exchange.

Mexico City Is Aged.

Mexico City is traditionally nearly 600 years old. It was founded when the Aztecs settled on an island near Lake Texcoco. Cortez practically destroyed the city in 1521. From this time on there was hardly a break in the ordinary events until 1892, when there was a revolt against Spanish rule. Later it was the scene of many revolutions and much bloody fighting until the iron rule of Porfirio Diaz made revolutions for thirty years somewhat unprofitable ventures. In the war between the United States and Mexico the principal movement of the American troops was directed against Mexico City. After capturing the hill of Chapultepec by assault General Scott occupied the city Sept. 14, 1847.

McIntosh will render a solo and Mrs. R. W. Bayless will accompany congregational song and solo. You are cordially invited to attend.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

Charlotte Walker, the celebrated actress will be seen at the Butler this evening in the Lasky production of the gripping drama, "Out of Darkness." Miss Walker will be remembered here for her artistic performance in the picture of the slums, "Kindling." In this production, however, Miss Walker is seen as a young society woman and has a splendid opportunity to display many of her newest gowns. One of the thrilling scenes occurs when Miss Walker and Tom Forman in a racing sloop are run down and sunk by a huge freighter. To secure this scene a trans-Pacific steamer had to be chartered and a racing sloop purchased and sunk. For the scenes of the burning cannery an entire plant was bought by the Lasky company, sprinkled with oil and set on fire. Miss Walker is supported by an excellent cast of Lasky players. Tomorrow, Pathe Weekly, and "The Final Curtain," a drama of the theater, featuring Arthur Hoops and Alma Hanlon.
